Class Poem

The time has come when you must choose
Your future; lose
Not what you have gained these years
Of study. Fears
Of what is yet to come—forget
Them, and let
Your conscience be your guide throughout
Your life. Doubt
Not yourself for you best know
Your strength. Go
Now forth to meet the world and heed
These words. Godspeed.

WILMA ANDERSON
Class Poet

Senior Prophecy

Here's the path that goes to the cemetery where the "class of '47" has been buried. Let's pretend we're watches and run down, just to see who was who.

Here's old Anderson's grave—too bad about her—never even learned to write her name. Doesn't even have a tombstone, only her feet to mark her grave.

Just down a ways is Cashion's corpse. Shot herself. Couldn't take it when the Hi-Y didn't vote her in as a member. Don Holloway shot himself too. Was either that or work. Took the easy way out.

Now Gaston over there is a sad case. Got his finger stuck in a bottle of Sweet Lucy. Hit Dan Leigh on the head with it. Bottle broke, so'd Dan's head. Gaston got lit up, Marshall mistook him for a stopligh, knocked him down and ruined his car. Marshall just cried himself to death.

Here's Benson's bones over here, under the pile of Esquires. He and Sherwood had a fight over who could keep the picture of Esther in a bathing suit. Roland won. Sherwood committed suicide. After that, Benson set up a business. Charged Fifty cents a glimmer at his gal's picture. Got rich quick from guys like Marvin, Wayne Hutchins and Bill Lindsey, who couldn't resist. All buried together with the picture in between them.

Frank Pittman is buried there with his Hilllife—going to have St. Peter sign it he said. Settle for Satan's though if he doesn't see St. Pete.

See that grave over there with the deadline around it? That's Charlie's. Proconian got too much for him. Took a swim and drowned. Water-wings gave out. Virginia McPherson saw it all. She was underwater, testing fountain pens for Wight's Writing Realm. Heard Joseph got rich off that deal.

Hear about Nannie Blackwood? Got her head caught in a typewriter. Just wanted to see how it worked. Now neither one does. When Ercell heard about it, she swallowed a typewriter ribbon, it upset her so.

Both Merritts buried there. Funny thing—both chewing the same piece of gum. Virginia got excited and swallowed it. Died of indigestion. Never heard tell of Jackie again. Hear she forgot to let go of the gum.

Valinda and Evelyn got killed at the same time. Threw a rolling-pin at their husbands. Husbands threw them back. Big mess.

Only bookworms crawl on Marion's grave. Got caught in a card catalogue at the library—smothered to death. Friend Kathleen died of a broken heart. Spanish beau got untied.

That ghost over there is Woodrow's. Woodrow never was on time, you know. Ghost got there after the grave was filled. Couldn't get in so wanders around up here.

Larry, Beryl and Snookie all buried together—one piece. Beryl was chasing Snookie, Larry was chasing Beryl. Snookie ran into a wall, others couldn't stop. Like I said—one piece.

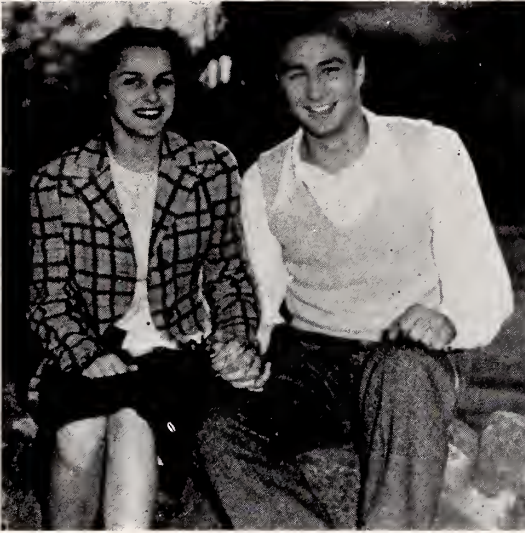

That big mound over there—whole pile under it. Much easier to dump them all in the same hole. Carolyn's car hit the Whitfield's wagon. Everybody riding in both cars was killed. Sarah, Helen, Betty, Maxine, Esther Ruth and Ellen Hogan were piled in with Carolyn; Neal Lasley, George and Numa Womble, Harold Glosson and Branton Tillman were riding with the Whitfields. They say Harold actually spoke. Surprised Stanford so that he drove right into Carolyn. Too hard to separate so they dumped them all in together.

Bill Stanford got caught in the cream separator. They had to make two graves for him. Smitty over there didn't even wait to die. More girls chasing him so he just jumped into his grave and lay low. Decided it was safer there so he stayed.

Both teachers finally died too. Went insane they tell me. Small wonder. That was some class!

This year's Student Council is the first Council to meet under the new constitution, drawn up and ratified by last year's members. We are proud to be represented by a Student Council that has been the first to actually bring about many improvements that should have been done long ago. A Social Committee was appointed by President Lineberger to control the social activities—especially parties at the 'Rec' after home games. A plan was drawn up by which members of an athletic team may receive their letters; this system gave the letters greater value because they were more difficult to obtain. The school rings were planned and selected and a four year contract for these was signed; the first Athletic Association election was conducted according to the rules of the new constitution; one hundred CHHS "T" shirts were bought and sold to the students and several new school songs were submitted in response to a petition to change our present song.

The fine spirit of co-operation that existed between the Student Council, Mr. Davis and the Student Body and the never-ending efforts of the members are responsible for the progress that has been made this year.

Library Club

FIRST ROW: Sidney Sparrow, Joe Jones, Norma King, June DeLancy, Ann Abernathy, Bill Bland.

SECOND ROW: Kathleen Barham, Margaret Ferguson, Constance DeLancy, Derith Alexander, Betsy Teague, Jeannette Sloan, Peggy Maynard, Mrs. Smoak.

THIRD ROW: Dot Sloan, Mary Cashion, Eloise Fogleman, Cay Hogan, Sally Jente, Branson Hobbs, Katharine Thompson, Dan Olsen.

FOURTH ROW: Joyce Williams, Jackie Crawford, Nancy Blocksidge, Dick Thurston, John Jernigan, Carlyle Harrison, John Wettach, Herbert Pendergraft.

Something new has been added to the Library Club this year—librarian Mrs. Smoak. With her encouragement, these members began a picture file, with pictures on anything and everything except what you're looking for and a pamphlet file with the same drawback. The shelves, card catalogue, and bulletin boards were kept recognizable by these bookworms as a part of their regular duties.

But a worm will turn, you know, and these turned toward social events and entertainments—Christmas caroling, club programs, and parties at members' houses.

Hi-Y Club

FIRST Row: Robert Brooks, Bob Farrell (vice-president), Lawrence Cheek (secretary), Adrian Lineberger (president), Jack Cohen (treasurer), P. H. Quinlan.

SECOND Row: Roland Benson, Sherwood Canada, Neal Creighton, Dan Leigh.

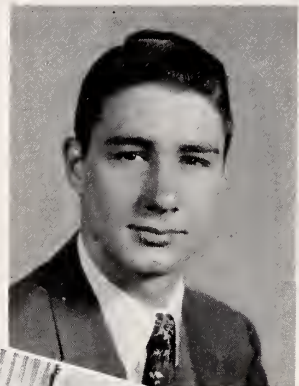

THIRD Row: Larry Riggsbee, Marshall White, E. C. Smith, G. S. Baldwin, Kimsey King, Frank Pittman.

absent - Egan Smith

Every Wednesday evening, the Hi-Y meeting was called (but seldom came) to order by Smitty, the president. When the noise diminished to a mere roar and some semblance of order finally appeared, the meeting at last began with: (1) a discussion of anything from international issues to domestic dilemmas (boy-girl relationships, to you), (2) a program under the direction of a speaker, Mr. Pittman, or what have you, (3) plans for hayrides and postponed parties, and last, but definitely not least, (4) the Senior Y-Teens. (These gullible goons actually honored the eager Y-Teens with an invitation to attend a joint meeting.)

Smitty and Don Broad, the adviser, dismissed all the noisy and disturbing members for the remainder of the meeting which was then automatically adjourned. Reason: no members present.

Senior Y-Teens

FIRST ROW: Dot Hogan, Nancy Caldwell, Phyllis Ferguson, Madeline Jennings, Betsy Green, Karin Jones, Jackie Merritt.

SECOND ROW: Jeanne Vashaw, Mary Dean Williams, Katharine Thompson, Dot Sloan, Mary Lou Wootten, Sara Durham, Helen Morrow, Jean Cashion.

THIRD ROW: Betty Thompson, Esther Cheek, Carolyn Guthrie, Virginia Merritt, Peggy Durham, Kathleen Barham, Nancy Ann Cheek, Janet Ellington.

Following the example of their predecessors, the Y-Teens sent delegates to the various conferences throughout the state, prepared baskets of food for the needy at Thanksgiving and Christmas time and sponsored three successful dances.

No doubt these same activities have been and will be carried on just as long as the Y-Teen exists, but this year's group has added another attraction, and their enthusiasm for meeting with the Hi-Y will probably never be equalled—heaven forbid! When to meet next with the Hi-Y and for what was the subject brought up at almost every meeting and as a result, several joint meetings were actually held, much to the satisfaction of Jean Cashion.

Junior Y-Teens

FIRST ROW: Dana Phipps, Jo Bissell (secretary), Billie Suitt, Carrie Jean Wherry, Betty Heath, Margaret Ferguson, Barbara Brooker, Connie DeLancy, Janet Green (president).

SECOND ROW: Jeannette Sloan, Jane Webb, Betsy Teague, Peggy Maynard, Gloria Wherry, Dot Durham, Alice Hazlett, Emily White, Betty Sue Jacobs.

Because of the overwhelming handicaps with which the Junior Y-Teens were faced, this year the group began in a state of pandemonium. In spite of the fact that almost half the members were inexperienced and of the difficulty of conducting orderly meetings, their progress (nevertheless) is commendable. A Baby-Sitting Group was formed and a uniform price established for the services; the former Girl Reserve constitution was revised and several by-laws were added concerning attendance among the members; a Thanksgiving basket was prepared for the poor and a Christmas basket for a blind boy; also, during Christmas time, Tuberculosis Seals were sold around town.

The social functions of the year were an autumn hayride, Christmas caroling and joint sponsorship of the New Year's Eve Dance.

Hilllife Staff

THIRD ROW: Bill Stanford, Lewis Phillips, Kathleen Barham, Virginia Merritt, Sara Durham.

FOURTH ROW: G. S. Baldwin, Esther Cheek, Roland Benson, Betty Thompson, Dan Leigh, Wilma Anderson, Bill Foister.

How can you tell a member of the Hilllife staff? That's simple. It's a senior who rushes around like the dickens, trying to meet the unmeetable deadline (incidentally, it wasn't met); it's a senior who goes crazy worrying about snapshots not being snapped, writeups not being written, and ads not being added; it's a senior who helped to choose these startling covers, who helped to make this year-book entirely different from any published before. And when this annual is released, you can tell just which senior is a staff member—the one who corners you and tells you that he did such and such for the Hilllife and would you like his autograph, huh?

Proconian Staff" Dyemutt"

SECOND ROW: Bill Foister, Jeanne Vashaw, Mary Louise Wootten (copy editor), Carolyn Guthrie, Dan Leigh (make-up editor), Mary Dean Williams.

This is the story of Tillie, the Typewriter, a hinky black Underwood, sitting in the Proconian madhouse. Tillie was an awfully nice typewriter, once you got to know her, and he worked real hard to type up all her stories for the seventeen-year-old Proconian. Yes, it was Tillie who let the student know that Elizabeth Morrison had resigned as editor and Charles Bartlett took over, that the new school building was ready for occupancy, that the Proconian was now being operated under the newly begun journalism club, and that the back hack had been set up to raise money for the Proconian. Tillie also typed up the Kehole, the Cohenucopis, Mew Brief, editorial and port stories. He did her job and did it well, that is, until Tillie had an accident. It all happened when someone tried to type the word 'Miiippi' and hit the " too hard. Tillie never recovered from that tuning blow, and will never type another " a long as he live. Poor Tillie!

Future Homemakers of America

FIRST ROW: Carolyn Guthrie, Beryl Ward, Esther Ruth Wilson, Janet Ellington, Ellen Hogan.

SECOND ROW: Jeweldine Merritt, Joyce Clark, Joyce Oakley, Dot Perry, Margaret Lewis (adviser).

THIRD ROW: Nettie Sue Partin, Eloise Maddry, Betty June Collins, Doris Norwood, Betty Lou Brockwell, Bobby Lou Clark.

SIXTH ROW: Coleen Hackney, Ruth Sturdivant, Rebecca Williams, Lenoris Tripp, Willie Ann Doss, Edna Womble, Betty Williams, Myrtis Williams.

The foremost purpose of the F.H.A. Club is to prepare its members to be the future homemakers of America. To accomplish this, the first Wednesday of each month was devoted to programs of social etiquette, correct table manners and personal grooming, while the third Wednesday was set aside for an informal social.

Future Farmers of America

FIRST ROW: Bobby McFarling, Clyde Pickard, Thomas Sparrow, Raymond Whitfield, Jack McPherson, Charles Williams, Dale Dollar, Bill Butler, W. F. Lathan (adviser).

SECOND ROW: Branton Tillman, John Carroll, Carlton Maynor, Ernest Brockwell, Caswell Andrews, Neal Lasley (reporter), Numa Womble (secretary), Cecil Riley, Hubert Durham, Clyde Young.

ABSENT: George Womble (treasurer).

The F.F.A., which is becoming one of the most active and instructive organizations of Chapel Hill High School, was reorganized this year after a period of two years of inactivity while director Mr. Lathan was serving in the army. The club was organized to bring together those boys who are interested in farming in an organization to make the farm a better place to live, and to live up to the motto, "Learn to do by doing."

THIRD ROW: Derith Alexander, Clair Russell, Gay Hogan, Jack Bright, Jane Berryhill.

Latin may have killed the Romans long ago, but these twenty odd students are still very much alive and seem to be enjoying it, Latin, that is.

In their bi-monthly meetings, under the leadership of Miss Owen they have studied and discussed the customs, life and language of the early Romans, and in November they gave an assembly program, to illustrate the dependence of English upon Latin.

They buried the Romans long ago so why didn't they bury Latin, too? Because there wouldn't be a Latin Club if they had, silly!

Shakespeare would probably turn over in his grave could he see the effects of his masterpieces upon these dramatic neophytes.

Deciding that "a rose by any other name would smell as sweet" they chose to call themselves "The Troopers" and to prove that boys and girls, as well as men and women are merely players, they staged a theatrical production to raise money for the "Rec".

The Dramatic Club began anew this year with no predecessors to set an example, but, in spite of this fact, the meetings were carried on—well, let's just say they were carried on.

Move over, Shakespeare!

FIRST ROW: Douglas Harrell, Mary Catherine Hogan, Mr. Pittman, Betsy Green, Sully Mason.

Every Monday morning, faculty adviser Mr. Pittman and eleven student members, pipettes in hand, hovered anxiously over bubbling test tubes awaiting the outcome of each new experiment, but received only a sputtering fizzle or an earth-shaking explosion.

To solve the many mysteries of science, demonstrations dealing with heat, light, water, and gases were conducted by various students; perhaps the most shocking experiment of all was that showing the effect of electricity.

Now that the atom has been thoroughly smashed, the Science Club is expected to lay plans to put it together again.

I wouldn't worry about it though, Einstein.

Teen Age Club

FIRST Row: Renny Randolph, Ruth Benson, Betsy Green, Jack Cohen.

SECOND Row: Ann Street, Madeline Jennings, Jack McCauley, Katherine Thompson, Dan Dyson.

Charles Boyer has his Casbah, Duffy has his Tavern, Allen has his Alley, and CHHS has it's 'Rec'. Here, the friendly frosh, silly sophs, jolly juniors, and serious seniors who make up the Teen-Age Club meet every Saturday night to stumble across the floor in semi-darkness to music squeezed from the vicious victrola—the lights are turned low so that when refreshments are served nobody can tell what they are made of. (By the way, what were they made of?)

If Charles Boyer were to "come to zee 'Rec'" would he find wine, women, and song? Most likely not, but we could show him the punch (at least that's what they call it), CHHS females, and of course, Madeline Jennings.

THIRD ROW: Peggy Lacock, Barbara Sparrow, Eleanor Thompson, Faye Hogan, Ellen Hogan.

FOURTH ROW: Joyce Williams, Helen Thompson, Buddy Williams.

FIFTH ROW: Frances Durham, Jessie Ward, Caswell Andrews, Cecil Riley.

I pledge: My Head to clearer thinking,
My Heart to greater loyalty,
My Hands to larger service, and
My Health to better living
For my Club, my Community, and my Country.

This is the pledge taken by every member of the 4-H Club which meets monthly under the direction of the County Home Agent, Mrs. Katheryn H. Hamrick, and Assistant County Farm Agent, Mr. E. P. Barns. Each member, throughout the year, may be found working on an individual project relating either to the farm or to the home in order to carry out the motto, "To Make the Best Better."

The 4-H Club is not without social functions by any means. Picnics and parties are given for the members while 4-H Clubs throughout the state are planning to attend camp at Manteo this summer.

Football

The "pigskin boys" were somewhat of a disappointment to the on-looking student body of Chapel Hill High this year. Looking at the scoreboard it can easily be seen that the Wildcats were usually on the short end of the scoring, but we believe that the team was better than scores seem to indicate.

The coaching staff would have been hard to beat anywhere. It consisted of Head Coach Johnny Pecora, former stellar tailback at the University of North Carolina, Johnny Ferris of the Citadel and more recently of the Charlotte Clippers, and our own well-known physical education director, Cecil Longest.

Prospects of veteran material were great after the 1945 season. This team lost very few through graduation and many were expected to return to fill the ranks of the '46 team. Several, however, were lost to the army while others failed to appear for practice for different reasons, making it almost imperative that Coach Pecora field, a rather green and untrained eleven. Add this to the fact that Hillians faced one of the toughest schedules in the history of the school and it is easier to understand the season's outcome.

The Wildcats met their first foe on home grounds. In the battle that followed the Hillians defeated a Graham eleven by 12-7. This was the first of two games that Chapel Hill was destined to win. The next five games were lost to Henderson, Oxford, Burlington, Roxboro, and Methodist Orphanage, none of which were runaways.

Then on Friday, November 8, the school paper "Proconian" beamed with headlines "Chapel Hill Scores Big Upset." That upset was the Hillian's 14-7 defeat of Hillsboro. Hillsboro had previously beaten Durham High, and when Chapel Hill spectators saw their team march to victory over their closely contested rivals, school spirit hit what must have been an all-time high for the season. This game was typical of the type of ball played by the Wildcats. It was an explosive brand of ball, one of the unique qualities of the '47 team. Maybe it can be explained better this way.

When the Hillians' played teams of their own in calibre, something unusual happened. Instead of playing a heads-up game, the team looked ragged, and played poor ball. It was just vice-versa when a supposedly superior team was encountered. For such games the Wildcats were primed and they finally hit their stride.

So it is that we, the senior class of 1946-47, say, "Hats off to our '46 football team, the coaching staff, and all who helped to make the team what it was."

The '47 Wildcat quintet wasn't quite so successful as the '46 edition, but it was one of the more powerful teams of the North Central Conference. After getting off to a slow start by dropping two consecutive games to the Burlington Cagers, the Hillians came back into their own by defeating a strong Oxford team for their first win of the year. The Wildcats had the potential energy, but they lacked the spark to set the quintet in motion.

J. W. DUKE
Junior—Guard

Coach Longest built his team around several returning lettermen, namely Lawrence Cheek, Jack McCauley, Smitty Lineberger, Ivaleé Hill, Neal Creighton, Hilbert Williams, and Bob Phillips (who was later lost due to a back injury.) Roy Riggsbee, Frank Pittman, Russell Perry, Mike Hendren, and J. W. Duke were among the newcomers, but they also figured among the top players of the teams.

Being a well-rounded team the Hillians were dangerous in all departments. Cheek, Creighton, and Hill were outstanding in the set shot line, while Riggsbee and McCauley handled the crips. Lineberger and Perry were under the backboard and both added to the scoring with those arched hook shots.

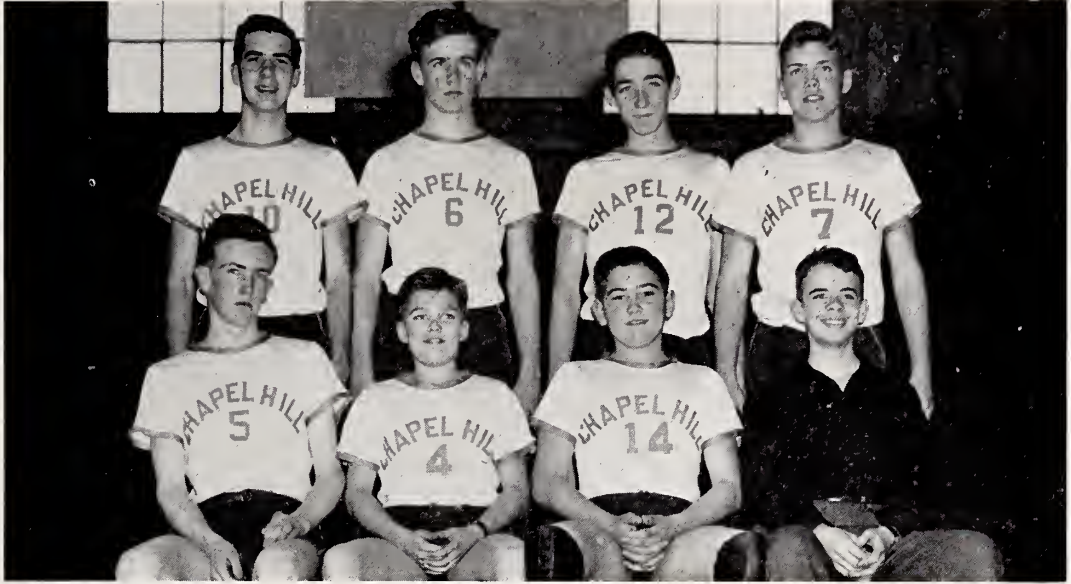

One of the Cat's main accomplishments was the defeat of Sanford by a score of 31-22, for it was Sanford who only the year before snapped the Wildcat's winning streak at eighteen straight. It was the first time a Chapel Hill team had defeated a Sanford team in any sport in six years. Several days later, however, this optimism was checked when the boys from Sanford came back to edge out the Hillians 27-25.

Chapel Hill will lose a lot when Lineberger, McCauley, Riggsbee, and Pittman graduate this year; but Coach Longest has developed some good reserves, and the team should be strong next year.

On the whole the Hillians played good ball, and they deserve a great deal of praise for their splendid work.

Girls' Basketball

The girls' basketball team has made a much better record this year than last, having won more than three times as many games.

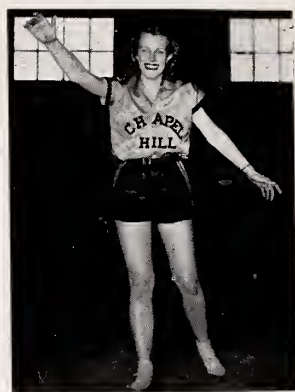

The first string was built around four returning lettergirls; Dorothy Hogan, Ellen Hogan, Jackie Merritt, and Katharine Thompson. The other two positions were held by Jean Cashion, who did not play last year and Carolyn Guthrie, a new student.

In the first encounter of the season the Kittens defeated Methodist Orphanage 39-33. Following this game they played Graham and the Town Girls twice and Sanford once before bowing to the Siler City lasses 23-24. Again picking up their winning streak they defeated the Roxboro sextet 26-22 only to drop their next encounter to Sanford by five points. The girls were undefeated in conference competition.

The team was very fortunate in having Mrs. Marvin Duncan, a graduate of Agnes Scott, as coach. Assisting her was Miss Burdie Carroll, science teacher in the high school.

THIRD ROW: Fenno McGinty, Charles Creel, Hilbert Williams, Hubert Durham, Jack Maultsby, Renny Randolph.

The Hillians entered into their 1947 baseball season under the able leadership of Coach Cecil Longest, former professional pitcher.

Material was plentiful and spirit was high as the Wildcats turned out for the first practice session. Some new faces were seen as the boys stepped up to the plate to take a swing at the "ol apple," but most of them were veterans of the previous year. In fact the starting team which played under Coach Longest in '46 was back to perform in '47.

The infield was built around Russell Perry, first base; Lawrence Cheek and Hilbert Williams, second base; Roy Riggsbee, short stop; and Collier Hill, third base. In the outfield material was just as plentiful with Bob Farrell, Dale Dollar, George Womble, Billy Scott, and Hubert Durham holding down the positions.

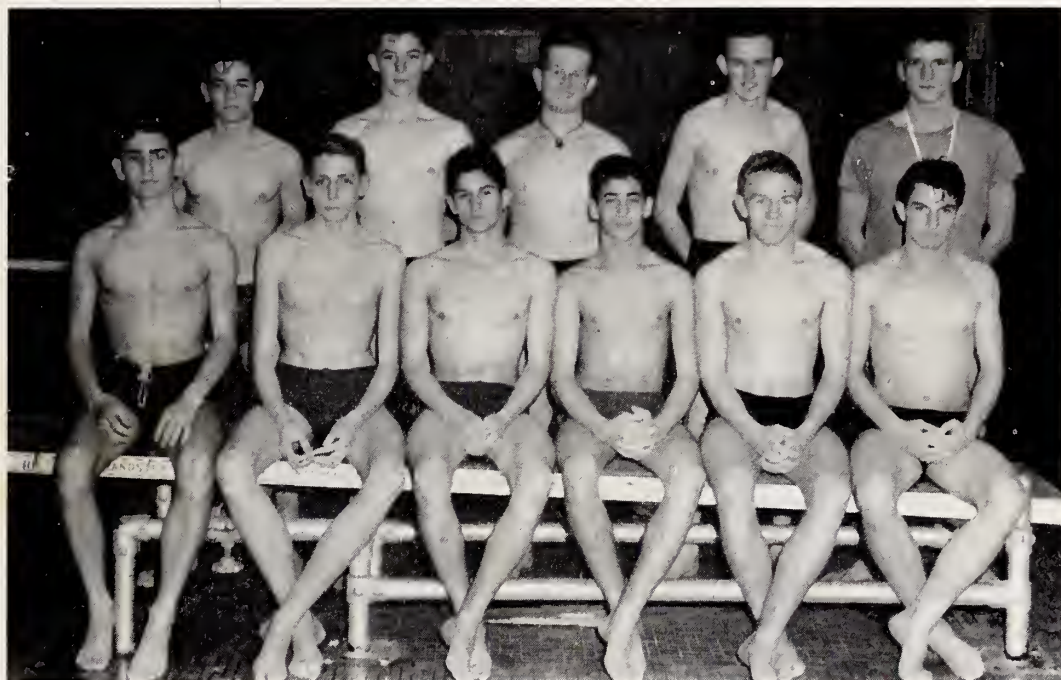

On the mound we saw such hurlers as Stanley Johnson, Smitty Lineberger, Curtis Whitfield, and Joe Wright, while ace catcher Bill Butler was on the receiving end.

From this information we reached the conclusion that the Wildcats had one of the most potent and well-rounded teams in the section.

To round out the picture a little more, we might add that the Hillians were better than average on defensive play and equally good on the offense. By looking at the batting average of 1946 we found that George Womble led the way by blasting out a hot .363, followed by Roy Riggsbee's neat .353. Averages like these gave the team zip and pep.

With Coach Longest in the driver's seat and a group of experienced ball players pulling the wagon, the Chapel Hill High School student body looks to the future with hopeful eyes.

For the second time in the school's history, Chapel Hill is represented by a boys' swimming team. The first was organized in 1945, with Willis Casey, now head track and swimming coach of State College, and Jack Davies as coaches. This year the team is guided by Ben Ward, National Senior AAU swimming ace and holder of several American individual records. In 1946, Ben was a star of the University of North Carolina's Blue Dolphins, victorious in all but two meets. With only a handful of experienced swimmers, Coach Ward led his team to several big meets. February 14 marked an important event for the swimmers with an inter-scholastic meet in Chapel Hill's Woollen Gym with schools participating from Baltimore, Md., Ambassador Swimming Club of Washington, D. C., Staunton Military Academy of Virginia, Augusta and Georgia Military Academies of Georgia, Greensboro, and Charlotte.

Betty Sue!!
Ain't we had a hell of a time this year?!!?
(I can curse now that I'm a soph)
Well, now that we are leaving good ole C.H.H.S. we'll have a lot of time to think about and "Smoochie!" Don't forget those cuttings! And those bushes on each side of your gate wall. (full of weeds)
That's a joke son!!!
Getting down to earth. I sure will miss you. Putting all of our fun together ~~can~~ gave up a good year. Don't forget 1947, Sue. Be sure and write and if you come back as a good girl. I'll tell you!!!
Write soon! (address: Stuart Hall, Staunton, Va.)
Love ya loads!!!!

Betty Sue,

I sure do miss you, especially in my school work. I doubt if I pass english, because I copied your paper so much last year, and I didn't learn anything.

Hope to see you soon.

Drop me a line.

Sue Moore

Who'd miss ya this year. Come back & see us
some time. Bob B.

B.S.

This is the supposed to be last year that his going to say we miss you this year. Really & truly we did not see to reach but the other time and have not to say it and we are

Thank you
